RECENT ADDITIONS

ETHICS — PHILOSOPHY — RELIGION

- Grenfell, Wilfred Thomason. 261-G826
What the church means to me; a frank confession and a friendly estimate by an insider.
- Henderson, Charles Hanford. 177-H496
Pay-day.
“‘Profit is theft’ is the thesis of the book and it is defended with literary skill and moral fervor, and the reader, whether he accepts or rejects the economic reasoning of the author, will find much food for thought and serious reflection, for out of such discussion social improvement must come.” Boston Transcript.
- King, Henry Churchill. 171-K52
The moral and religious challenge of our times. The guiding principle in human development: reverence for personality.
“In his new book President King writes of some of the vexing questions of modern times with his usual clarity and forcefulness, not looking at them with the eye of the theologian, but in so far as possible from the point of view of the every day man and woman.”
- Perley, Martin Van Buren. 133-P452
A short history of the Salem village witchcraft trials.
- Royce, Josiah. 171-R888.3
William James and other essays on the philosophy of life.
Contents. — William James and the philosophy of life. — Loyalty and insight. — What is vital in Christianity? — The problem of truth in the light of recent discussion. — Immortality.

EDUCATION — SOCIOLOGY

- Allen, William Harvey. 396-A432
Woman's part in government, whether she votes or not.
“Dr. Allen's book on the place that woman can occupy in our government, whether or not she possesses the right to use the ballot, is of unusual timeliness and importance.”
- American academy of political and social science. Annals, September, 1911. 306-A6
American produce exchange markets.
“A contribution of especial value upon a subject concerning which there is as yet but relatively little published.” Editor.
Work of National consumers' league.
- Booth, Charles, and others. 331.8-B7
Life and labour of the people in London. First series, Poverty, East, Central and South London.

- Brown, Frederic Kenyon. 331.3-B8
Through the mill; the life of a mill-boy, by Al Priddy.
- Devine, Edward Thomas. 304-D495
The spirit of social work.
- Garden suburbs, town planning, and modern architecture.
With contributions by M. H. Baillie Scott, and others.
331.83-G2
- Lane, Ralph Norman Angell. 327-L266
The great illusion; a study of the relation of military power in nations to their economic and social advantage. By Norman Angell [pseudonym].
"No piece of political thinking has in recent years more stirred the world which controls the movement of politics." Nation.
- Nettlefold, John S. 331.83-N4
Practical housing.
- Robbins, Edwin Clyde. Ref. 374.4
The high school debate book.
"Contains briefs on many of the vital questions of the day, each one accompanied by a bibliography divided into general, affirmative, and negative references."
- Robinson, Charles Mulford. 352.7-R6
The width and arrangement of streets; a study in town planning.
- Thomas, Ralph Wilmer. Ref. 374.4
A manual of debate.

SCIENCE

- Moore, N. Hudson Woodbridge. 529.7-M8
The old clock book.
"Describes the many varieties of time-keepers, the curious specimens, the peculiarities indicating various makers, and the means of identification. Contains lists of English and American clock-makers."

USEFUL ARTS

- Rutter, William Pickering. 633-R982
Wheat growing in Canada, the United States and the Argentine.
A useful guide for the general reader, the farmer, or anyone intending to emigrate to Canada. A practical statement of the wheat production, harvesting and transportation in Canada, in comparison with the United States. Deals with climatic and soil influences, experiments with fertilizers and machinery, methods of irrigation and dry-farming, market development, storage, etc. Estimates the possibilities and probabilities of each country in wheat growing. Text is made clear by copious statistics compiled from government publications.

FINE ARTS

- Blunck, A. 745-B658
 Lessons on form. Written and drawn at special request of the Prussian ministry of commerce and industry. Translated from the German by David O'Connor.
- Downes, William Howe. 759.1-H7d
 The life and works of Winslow Homer.
- Hooker, Brian. 782.1-H7m
 Mona; an opera in three acts.
 The text for Mona, the opera that last spring won the Metropolitan prize for the best grand opera written in English and composed by an American.
 "Mr. Hooker's libretto is a truly remarkable, a truly masterly achievement in its kind. It is the first drama for music written by an American, that deserves the name." Boston Transcript.
- Hourticq, Louis. 709.44-H8
 Art in France.
- Pennell, Elizabeth Robins, and Joseph Pennell. 759.1-W5p
 The life of James McNeill Whistler.

- Thomas, Rose Fay. 78-T462t
 Memoirs of Theodore Thomas.

LITERATURE

- Besier, Rudolf. 822-B554.1
 Lady Patricia; a comedy in three acts.
 "Among the nine or ten young playwrights who with adequate encouragement from the public could render our drama as worthy of respect as our fiction, Mr. Besier ranks high."
- Butler, Isabel. 841.1-B9
 Tales from the old French.
 Thirteen tales of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, only three of which have previously been fully translated. "In them all Mrs. Butler has kept . . . marvellously . . . not only the text but the spirit of the original. The quaintly fascinating manners and customs of the middle ages are revived for us, and for a little time we live in its 'rich dim' atmosphere, wherein fact and fable, scepticism and childlike faith, idealism and realism, fairy and everyday life, satire and sentiment, reverence and ridicule, are so inextricably mingled." Boston Transcript.
- Cooper, Frederic Taber. 813-C776
 Some American story tellers.
 Contents. — Francis Marion Crawford. — Kate Douglas Wiggin. — Winston Churchill. — Robert W. Chambers. — Ellen Glasgow. — David Graham Phillips. — Robert Herrick. — Edith Wharton. — Newton Booth Tarkington. — "O. LIBRARY NOTES

Mattapan Branch. After April 1, the Mattapan Branch will be open on Tuesdays only. The hours of opening will be from 3-6 and 7-9 P.M.

Chestnut blight. The Scientific American for March 16 has articles on the "Chestnut tree blight," and on "Good roads and how to build them," two subjects of vital interest to all towns.

Public meetings. It does not seem to be known generally that the Historical Room of the Library is offered free for the use of classes; literary, educational, or philanthropic, and for meetings where topics of public welfare are to be discussed.

Even with so large a use of the Library for these purposes as is shown by the number of meetings mentioned in the annual report just published, there are still persons who express their surprise that rooms at the Library are available for such meetings.

Applications for use of rooms should be made to the Librarian.

An abstract of a lecture before the City parks association of Philadelphia explaining the system of the neighborhood centers in the south side of Chicago.

RECENT ADDITIONS

ETHICS — PHILOSOPHY — RELIGION

Harnack, Adolf. 239-H289
What is Christianity?

Key, Ellen. 173-K44.2
Love and ethics.

Gives a "definite and concise idea of the author's attitude toward present-day social wrongs and abuses and the new standard of moral values she hopes to see established." A. L. A. Booklist.

Martinengo-Cesaresco, Evelyn, contessa. 290-M385
The place of animals in human thought.

Schleiermacher, Friedrich. 193.6-C9

The theology of Schleiermacher; a condensed presentation of his chief work "The Christian faith," by George Cross.

"It remains the imperishable honor of Schleiermacher that he grasped the whole problem of theology in a new way and compelled theologians of all schools to follow him. . . . His whole treatment of the problems of theology is so rich in suggestion that every theologian of the present day is his debtor and many of his most stimulating ideas are still awaiting development."

EDUCATION — SOCIOLOGY

American academy of political and social science. Annals,
Nov. 1911-Mar. 1912. 306-A6

China; social and economic conditions

Commission government in American cities

Country life.

Bartlett, Dana W. 353.8-B2
The better country.

"Mr. Bartlett has produced a little book which ought to be in every household and school in the country, and which should be read, not only by men and women interested in the prosperity and well-being of the country, but by every boy and girl in whom may be awakened a spirit of social service and of true patriotism." Independent.

Faguet, Emile. 321.4-F1
The cult of incompetence.

This work has attracted wide spread attention in France and exhibits many of the dominant tendencies of the democracy of the present day to discourage the highest talent in all the principal walks in life, and to encourage mediocrity and incompetence, to the ultimate detriment of the nation and national character. "The volume, though destructive, is at any rate a sincere and illuminating contribution to the science of sociology, and as such deserves high praise and careful attention."

- Raymont, Thomas. 377-R273
The use of the Bible in the education of the young; a book for teachers and parents.

PHILOLOGY

- Bierce, Ambrose. 428-B588
Write it right; a little blacklist of literary faults.

USEFUL ARTS

- Biggle, Jacob. 634-B592
Biggle berry book.
"Small fruit facts from bud to box."
- Card, Fred Wallace. 634-C266
Bush-fruits; a horticultural monograph of raspberries, blackberries, dewberries, currants, gooseberries, and other shrub-like fruits.
- Casson, Herbert Newton. 659-C345
Ads and sales.
"A study of advertising and selling, from the standpoint of the new principles of scientific management."
- Kobbé, Gustav. 636-K75
A tribute to the dog, including the famous tribute by Senator Vest.
- Robinson, John Henry. 636-R662.1
Principles and practice of poultry culture.
"This is by far the most complete presentation of poultry husbandry which we have seen." Nation.
- Sanderson, Ezra Dwight. 632-S216
Insect pests of farm, garden and orchard.
"It has been the author's effort to discuss all of the more important insects of farm, garden and orchard at sufficient length to give a clear idea of their life histories and habits, and also the best means of control, so that the book may be used as a reference work both by the student of economic entomology and by the practical farmer, gardener, or fruit grower." Preface.
- Singer, Berthold. 608-S617
Patent and trade mark laws of the world.
- Wing, Henry Hiram. 637-W769
Milk and its products; a treatise upon the nature and qualities of dairy milk and the manufacture of butter and cheese.

FINE ARTS

Story of French painting.
- Galloway, Beverly Thomas. 716-G174
Commercial violet culture.
- Inexpensive homes of individuality: being a collection of photographs and floor plans illustrating certain of America's best country and suburban homes of moderate size. 728-I42
- Moore, George. 759-M822
Modern painting.
"Essays on living painters and modern art tendencies, both good and evil, with frequent allusions to old artists, and some account of men who are not painters. There is some excess of enthusiastic praise of art which he loves and of contempt for artists and critics whom the author looks upon as wholly astray in their aims and work, but the book is almost wholly right in its tendency." Russell Sturgis.
- Petherick, Horace. 78-S895p
Antonio Stradivari.
- Saylor, Henry H., editor.

 The storm.
 "The author of 'The storm' is acknowledged to be the greatest of the Russian dramatists. He has been called 'a specialist in the natural history of the Russian merchant,' and his birth, upbringing, family connections and vocations gave him exceptional facilities for penetrating into the life of that class which he was the first to put into Russian literature." Introduction.

Woman suffrage; history, arguments and results.

Cramb, John A. 327-C889.1
The origins and destiny of imperial Britain and nineteenth century Europe.
"It is scarcely credible, yet a fact, that the late Prof J. A. Cramb wrote his 'Origins and destiny of imperial Britain' at least fifteen years ago. The book was produced as a series of lectures, and came out of that far-flung military venture which gave England her heated controversies over the Boer war." Boston Herald.

Dawson, William H. 354.43-D2
What is wrong with Germany?

Fairchild, Henry P. 325-F165
Immigration, a world movement and its American significance.

Fisher, Irving.
Elementary principles of economics 330-F533
Why is the dollar shrinking? A study in the high cost of living. 338.5-F5
"A clear, compact, but thorough discussion . . . of the 'general principles which fix the scale of prices . . . and the manner in which these principles apply to the present high cost of living.' "
A. L. A. Booklist.

The General education board; an account of its activities,
1902-1914. 370.6-G3
The General Education Board, founded by John D. Rockefeller, sets forth in its charter as its general object "the promotion of education within the United States of America, without distinction of race, sex, or creed."

- Goddard, Henry H. 371.9-G5
School training of defective children.
- Hale, Beatrice Forbes-Robertson. 396-H161
What women want; an interpretation of the feminist movement.
"It is absolutely refreshing to find a feminine writer on the woman movement who concedes that 'there are no virtues in women superior to those found in men.' There are many admirable qualities in Mrs. Hale's study of women in this age and 'What Women Want' will be found to contain keen observation and sober thinking, which results in a work of much interest to the reader, irrespective of his or her stand upon the suffrage question." Boston Transcript.
- Hawkins, Anthony H. 327-H393
The new (German) Testament; some texts and a commentary.
"An exceedingly clever analysis of the German gospel of morals and war. A vigorous exposition of the contrast between the English and German standards."
- Jenks, Jeremiah W., and W. J. Lauck. 325-J53

An ethical problem; or, Sidelights upon scientific experimentation on man and animals.
- Morgan, Anne. 376-M847
The American girl; her education, her responsibility, her recreation, her future.
- Nearing, Scott. 304-N354
Social adjustment.
"The maladjustments that hinder 'social adjustment,' cripple efficiency and retard the growth of the proper environment for children are discussed under two main groupings: those that are remediable through the awakening of the social conscience, and those regarding which the social conscience has been awakened. A series of straightforward, practical chapters in which the author has made large use of recent books, articles and reports to state present conditions and suggest lines of reform." A. L. A. Booklist.
- Scott, Temple. 028-S429
The pleasure of reading.
- Sorel, Georges. 331.88-S7
Reflections on violence. Authorised translation [from the French] by T. E. Hulme.
"As the classic of syndicalism, this book has become the centre around which a struggle has focussed itself. It introduces a philosopher of European reputation, an original thinker who has exercised a great influence on the continent not only among politicians, but among philosophers, historians, and economists."

Usher, Roland G.

327-U85

Pan-Americanism; a forecast of the inevitable clash between the United States and Europe's victor.

"Usher's contention is that no matter which side is victorious in the present war, we are certain to be subject at once to aggression on the part of the victor." This "aggression will not express itself in terms of conquest on our territory. It will take the form of influence in South America, the only combined market and place for racial expansion left on the globe. Such expansion on the part of the victor will directly challenge the Monroe Doctrine, which means militarism; nothing else can justify it; nothing else can protect it." Boston Transcript.

Ward, Edward J.

379.1-W2

The social center.

Advances arguments for the use of the schoolhouse as the center of the social and civic life of the community, the common meeting ground for the discussion of political ideas, of movements for civic advancement and social betterment, and as a polling place. . . . The functions which such a center could assume — public lectures, branch public library, public art gallery, music, recreation, public health office, etc. — are described by various writers. A. L. A. Booklist.

SCIENCE — USEFUL ARTS

Allen, Lucy G.

647-A427

Table service.

"A textbook used in the instruction of table service in schools of cookery. It is now offered to a larger circle of all home lovers, with the hope that it may help those who are striving for the beauty of a well ordered house and of gracious service." Introduction.

Fabre, Jean H. C.

595.79-F1

The mason-bees.

"Record of painstaking and affectionate observations of these bees, which, together with a projected volume on The bramble-bees and others, will form an extended study of the wild bee. In a particularly interesting chapter on insect psychology, the scientist states again his conservative conclusions in the 'reason versus instinct' controversy. The account includes chapters on red ants, parasites and cats." A. L. A. Booklist.

Farmer, Fannie M.

641-F234

Boston cooking-school cook book. 1914 edition.

Fleming, John A.

654-F597

The principles of electric wave telegraphy and telephony.

"Advanced, thoroughly scientific treatise on the principles, history and appliances and methods employed in radiotelegraphy, with a chapter on wireless telephony." Pratt.

Ganong, William F.

581-G198

The living plant; a description and interpretation of its functions and structure.

" 'The author seeks to present an accurate and a vivid conception of the principal things of plant life.' — Preface. It will be valuable to the beginner in natural history, and simple and entertaining to the lay reader." A. L. A. Booklist.

- Lewis, Harry R. 636-L674
Productive poultry husbandry; a complete text dealing with the principles and practices involved in the management of poultry.

Wireless telegraph construction for amateurs . . . with a complete description of the new wireless law. 3d edition.
- Pagé, Victor W. 629.1-P1.1
Questions and answers relating to modern automobile design, construction, driving and repair.
- Price, George M. 658-P945
The modern factory: safety, sanitation and welfare.
- Spinney, Louis B. 530-S757
A text-book of physics.
- Stanley, Rupert. 654-S788
Text book on wireless telegraphy.
- Wildman, John R. 657-W674
Principles of accounting.

FINE ARTS

(Including Amusements)

- Barse, Mary E. S. 790-B282
Games for all occasions.
- Bolton, Ethel S. 741-B694
Wax portraits and silhouettes; with an introduction by Charles Henry Hart, Esq.
"While silhouettes have been written upon more or less, wax portraits, as far as I know, have received but scant attention abroad and none at all here. This treatise, therefore, is a most valuable contribution to the artistic life in this country, presenting in a thorough manner for preservation the history of the work of wax modellers in the United States." Introduction.
- Roosevelt, Theodore.
Hunting trips of a ranchman; sketches of sport on the northern cattle plains. 799-R781.5

- Roosevelt, Theodore. 799-R781.6
The wilderness hunter; an account of the big game of the United States and its chase with horse, hound, and rifle.
- Smith, F. Hopkinson. 741-S647
Outdoor sketching; four talks given before the Art Institute of Chicago. The Scammon lectures, 1914.
"Divided into four parts, composition, mass, water-colors, and charcoal, with illustrations by the author."
- Spayth, Henry. 796-S736
Draughts or checkers for beginner.
- U. S. Treasury department. Ref. 737
Catalogue of coins, tokens, and medals in the numismatic collection of the mint of the United States at Philadelphia, Pa.

The hour has struck; a war poem, and other poems.
- Rickert, Edith, compiler. 821.08-R53
Ancient English Christmas carols, 1400-1700.
Miss Edith Rickert's collection of ancient English carols was recognized on its first appearance as an admirable piece of work; and its publication in this cheaper form will be welcomed by a wider circle of readers. For though a certain number of Christmas carols, in traditional or modernized versions, are familiar to everybody, few realize how rich a lyric store has been preserved to us in this popular form from medieval times. The Times (London) Literary Supplement.
- Service, Robert W. 821-S491
Rhymes of a rolling stone.
- Shaw, Bernard.
Captain Brassbound's conversion 822-S534.6
The man of destiny, and How he lied to her husband. 822-S534.7

New York Times current history of the European war.
[Periodical, monthly.] 940.91-N5

Putnam, Ruth. 943.44-P9
Alsace and Lorraine from Cæsar to Kaiser, 58 B.C.-1871 A.D.
"In her short foreword to the present work Miss Putnam says: 'The stories of Alsace and Lorraine are scattered about on the pages of English histories or told concretely in little accessible foreign literature, and time-pressed readers may find a connected sketch of their evolution convenient. What I have tried to do was to bring a few landmarks on a long road into consecutive line.' The effort thus modestly defined has been successful. There are, of course, no literary embellishments. The book is a compendium of facts. There are a number of very interesting maps, and the appendix giving a precis of the treaties affecting the territories is a convenient addition." Boston Herald.

Rose, J. Holland. 940.91-R7
The origins of the war, 1871-1914.
This book . . . "is a review of the gradual growth of antagonism between Great Britain and Germany, culminating in the events of last July. . . . The author reviews the reasons which made Germany choose the present year for precipitating war, and . . . recalls many incidents of our relations with Germany of which the significance was missed in this country at the time." Times (London) Literary Supplement.

Sarolea, Charles. 940.91-S2
How Belgium saved Europe.
"The subject of Dr. Sarolea's new book is one which touches a responsive chord — sympathy for a small nation unjustly attacked, admiration for a gallant people, gratitude for those who sacrificed themselves and did not count the cost." Athenæum.

Usher, Roland G. 973-U85
The rise of the American people.
A philosophical interpretation of American history and life, treating the place of the United States in universal history.

Whitridge, Frederick W. 940.91-W6
One American's opinion of the European war: an answer to Germany's appeals.
"A candid examination of the German position as it looks to an able American lawyer who admits having spent the happiest years of his life in Germany."

DESCRIPTION AND TRAVEL

Fraser, Mary C., and Hugh C. Fraser. 917.8-F8
Seven years on the Pacific slope.

Maxwell, Donald. 914-M465

Adventures with a sketch book, with two hundred notes in line and colour reproduced in facsimile from the original sketches.

“ ‘Adventures with a sketch book’ is, as befits a book written and illustrated by an artist, a really beautiful and artistic piece of book-making. There is a sort of general spontaneity about the work which makes the reader feel that he is an actual participant in Mr. Maxwell’s explorations and romantic expeditions in numerous unexpected places all over Europe.”

Shackleton, Robert. 914-S524
Unvisited places of Europe.

BIOGRAPHY

(Individual)

Frederick II., the Great, king of Prussia. B-F8522p

The confessions of Frederick the Great, and The life of Frederick the Great by Heinrich von Treitschke, edited by Douglas Sladen.

French. Chisholm, Cecil. B-F874c
Sir John French; an authentic biography.

Sill. Parker, William B. B-S5841p
Edward Rowland Sill; his life and work.

“For ten years past, at intervals, Mr. Parker has been working upon a record of Sill’s life with ever growing enthusiasm, and believing with Sir Leslie Stephen that the best biography is autobiography, he has made of his volume simply a well-arranged collection of Sill’s letters and of reminiscence by those who were close to him during the successive stages of his career as student, traveller, teacher and writer. The result is a biography thoroughly alive with the presence and dominated by the personality of its subject.” Boston Transcript.

Sprague. Weston, William B. Milton coll.
Hon. Seth Sprague of Duxbury, Plymouth county, Massachusetts, his descendants down to the sixth generation, and his reminiscences of the old colony town.

Mrs. Martin's man.

Ford, Sewell.
Shorty McCabe on the job.

Gray, Phoebe.
Little Sir Galahad.

Kennan, George.

A Russian comedy of errors; with other stories and sketches of Russian life.

These stories "take the scale from the comic to the tragic, from a plain recital of facts to a strong allegorical legend belonging to the peasants and founded on Napoleon. . . . The simplicity of Mr. Kennan's style, his ability to keep his emotions out of his recital, and to leave the facts alone to make their impression, add effectively to the book, whose matter is sufficiently moving to need no exploitation." N. Y. Times Book Review.

Lyons, A. Neill.

Arthur's.

Maniates, Belle K.

Amarilly of Clothes-Line Alley.

Maupassant, Guy de.

Short stories.

Contents: v. 1. Bell-ami. — v. 2. The window, and short stories. — v. 3. Mad, and short stories. — v. 4. Ball-of-Tallow, and short stories. — v. 5. Monsieur Parent, and short stories. — v. 6. RECENT ADDITIONS

GENERAL WORKS

Bostwick, Arthur E., compiler. 021.3-B7

The relationship between the library and the public schools.

"Twenty-four papers and addresses by prominent librarians and educators, which have appeared in library periodicals, National Education Association proceedings, etc., from 1876 to 1911."

A. L. A. Booklist.

Walsh, William S. Ref. 030

A handy book of curious information; comprising strange happenings in the life of men and animals, odd statistics, extraordinary phenomena and out of the way facts concerning the wonderlands of the earth.

ETHICS — PHILOSOPHY — RELIGION

The Catholic encyclopedia. Ref. 203

An international work of reference of the constitution, doctrine, discipline, and history of the Catholic church, edited by Charles G. Herbermann, and others.

Eddy, Mary B. G.

The first church of Christ Scientist, and Miscellany.

289.9-E21.1

Miscellaneous writings, 1883-1896.

289.9-E21.2

Rudimental divine science.

289.9-E21.3

Eliot, Charles W. 172.4-E4.1

The road toward peace; a contribution to the study of the causes of the European war and of the means of preventing war in the future.

Johnston, Robert M. 172.4-J7

Arms and the race; the foundations of army reform.

"Some interesting generalizations about the gradual change in the character of war as a result of the evolution of weapons of destruction and the development of the nation in arms." N. Y. Times Book Review.

March, 1915.
Readjustments in taxation. 306-A6

American academy of political and social science. Annals,
May 1915, and Supplement. 306-A6
The American industrial opportunity.
The total disability provision in American life insurance contracts.

Beck, James M. 327-B393
The evidence in the case; a discussion of the moral responsibility for the war of 1914, as disclosed by the diplomatic records of England, Germany, Russia, France and Belgium, with an introduction by Hon. Joseph H. Choate.

Chesterton, Gilbert K. 327-C525
The appetite of tyranny; including letters to an old Garibaldian.
Chesterton "makes a 'tremendous trifle' of the Prussian character, of German culture and diplomacy, of the Teutonic dominance of Europe's future (providing, of course, that Berlin dictates the terms of peace), but Prussian militarism is a thing too tremendous to be trifled with, and whatever may be the form of his rhetoric, there is a tidal force of thought occasionally rising in these papers which sweeps our convictions wholly to the Allies' cause in the Great War." Boston Transcript.

Farwell, Parris T. 352.91-F2
Village improvement.
"Meets the demand for practical, up-to-date information on the organization, methods and proper activities of village improvement associations, by giving a straightforward account of the organization and specific achievements of such associations throughout the country. The author is chairman of the Village improvement committee of the Massachusetts Civic League." A. L. A. Booklist.

Masaoka, Naoichi, editor. 327-M394
Japan to America; a symposium of papers by political leaders and representative citizens of Japan on conditions in Japan and on the relations between Japan and the United States.

Military order of the loyal legion of the United States,
Massachusetts commandery. 369.152-M6
Register . . . November 1, 1912.

Reely, Mary K. Ref. 331.2
Selected articles on the minimum wage.

Rubinow, Isaac M. 331.82-R8
Social insurance, with special reference to American conditions.

"The most comprehensive treatment of the subject in English, by an authority. It deals with insurance against industrial accidents, sickness, old age, invalidity, death, unemployment. On only one of the six features discussed, industrial accidents, has there been any legislation in the United States." A. L. A. Booklist.

Shattuck, Harriette R. 328.1-S533.1
Shattuck's parliamentary answers, alphabetically arranged for all questions likely to arise in women's organizations.

Chapman, Frank M. 598-C466.2
Handbook of birds of eastern North America, with introductory chapters on the study of birds in nature, revised edition.

Fabre, Jean H. C. 595.79-F1.1
Bramble-bees and others.

Fairchild, David, and Marian Fairchild. 595.7-F16
Book of monsters.
"A collection of actual photographs of a few of the small-sized monsters which inhabit the tall grass, the flower garden and vegetable garden, the pines and oaks of a place in the woods of Maryland." Preface.

Reed, Chester A. 598-R323
The bird book; illustrating in natural colors more than seven hundred North American birds, also several hundred photographs of their nests and eggs.

United States. Nautical almanac office. Ref. 528
The American ephemeris and nautical almanac for the year 1915.

USEFUL ARTS

The Engineering index annual. Compiled from the Engineering index published monthly in the Engineering magazine, 1914. Ref. 620

"This index comprises about two hundred and fifty publications, representing seventeen nations and colonies and six languages. . . . With every entry a brief descriptive note is given defining the scope and purport of the articles."

- Hawkins, Nehemiah. 621.1-H3
Aids to engineers' examinations. 1914 edition.
- Pretlow, Mary D., compiler. 641-P942
The small family cook book.
- Story, Josephine. 641-S887
For the comfort of the family.
"Here is a happy solution of the servant problem — a charming and practical real life story of how a family ended kitchen drudgery."
- Williams, Florence. 641-W723
Dainties for home parties; a cook-book for dance-suppers, bridge parties, receptions, luncheons and other entertainments.

FINE ARTS

(Including Amusements)

- Bardswell, Frances A. 716-B247
The herb-garden.
- Clarke, W. J., and F. T. Dawson. 797-C612
Baseball; individual play and team play in detail.
"This is a complete presentation of the game, perhaps especially designed for school and college players. It is composed of simple and concise but detailed studies of the various positions separately, and — under the head of team plays — in combination, together with expositions of the principles of batting, base-running, and general training. The whole book — a model of thoroughness, simplicity, and method of arrangement — is really the first practical, thoughtful, and systematic handbook on the game. Its value to players, captains, and coaches engaged in ball playing in any form cannot be overstated."
- Cook, E. T. 716-C771
Gardens of England.
- Du Cane, Florence. 716-D822
Flowers and gardens of Japan.
"The author has made use of Mr. Conder's great work on landscape gardening in Japan." International Studio.
- Hornaday, William T. 799-H813.1
Wild life conservation in theory and practice. Lectures delivered before the Forest school of Yale University, 1914.
"In seeking to impress on students of Yale forestry school the pressing need of services of college bred men in a movement to save the fast vanishing wild life in America, Dr. Hornaday asserts that 'American greed, slothfulness and ignorance,' has swept away fully ninety-five per cent. of the birds and animals of North America that were most useful to mankind. And, he declares, that had the game birds and game quadrupeds of the United States been properly preserved, they would today be yielding us $10,000,000 worth of good food annually at a cost of only $500,000 for warden." Boston Herald.

- Jekyll, Gertrude, and Lawrence Weaver. 716-J47
Gardens for small country houses, 3rd edition.
- Klickmann, Flora, editor. 746-K65.1
The cult of the needle.
"Gives directions for making Hungarian, Catalan, Baro, Amager, and Bulgarian embroidery; reticella, carrickmacross, Brussels braid, and Limerick tambour lace; fringes, netting, punched work, hemstitching, darned huckaback and other fancy stitches, besides suggesting ways for mending." A. L. A. Booklist.
- Miller, Wilhelm. 716-M652
The charm of English gardens.
- White, Stewart E. 799-W588.3
The rediscovered country.
"This book is Mr. White's diary of his hunting trip to the last virgin hunting ground, in the inhabited part of the world [German East Africa] — a field teeming with game, which is as large as that of British East Africa and nearly as accessible and which has never known the sound of a gun. . . . His experiences on the march are both amusing and interesting and make a truly unusual first-hand story of exploration and adventure that should interest the hunter, the traveler and the naturalist."
- Who's who in music. Ref. 780.3

LITERATURE

- Andreev, Leonid N. 891.72-A5
Plays, translated from the Russian by Clarence L. Meader and Fred N. Scott.
"This is the authorized translation for the first time into English of three plays by the greatest of living Russian dramatists. These plays, which have made Andreyeff's fame not only in Russia but throughout Europe, are among the most important and profoundly interesting productions of modern times, and their publication in English is a literary and dramatic event of the first interest. The translation, made with the author's authorization and from his own choice of the plays, has been most competently and brilliantly carried out."
- Binyon, Laurence. 821-B614
The winnowing-fan: poems on the great war.
- Chapman, John J. 814-C466
Memories and milestones.
"Literary studies and reminiscences, including personal appreciations of William James, Charles Eliot Norton, Julia Ward Howe and Charles William Eliot." Boston Transcript.
- Frost, Robert. 811-F939
North of Boston.
"Mr. Frost's achievement is much finer, much more near the ground, and much more national, in the true sense, than anything that Whitman gave to the world." The London Outlook.

Kittredge, George L. 821-C496k

Chaucer and his poetry.

"Six lectures delivered in 1914 at Johns Hopkins University on 'The man and his times,' the 'Book of the Duchess,' the 'House of fame,' 'Troilus,' and 'The Canterbury tales.' A discriminating and sympathetic study useful to any one studying Chaucer and also very agreeable to any reader interested in literature." A. L. A. Booklist.

Maeterlinck, Maurice. 841-M186

Poems; done into English verse by Bernard Miall.

Masters, Edgar L. 811-M423

Spoon river anthology.

"The poet creates his characters, all people of a single American community, and causes them to open their minds each in an individual poem." Boston Transcript.

Rosenfeld, Morris. 811-R813

Songs of labor and other poems. Translated from the Yiddish by Rose Pastor Stokes, and Helena Frank.

"Revolt at the grinding horror of mechanical toil and the dull hopelessness which makes its misery all the more poignant are the main themes of Songs of labor, by Morris Rosenfeld, which has found in Rose Pastor Stokes and Helena Frank translators of sympathetic understanding. They have retained the original meter of the poems and have given us in the English that wistful sadness and patient visioning so characteristic of the Jewish temperament." Independent.

Russell, George W. E. 821-R963

Collected poems, by A. E. [pseud.]

Some imagist poets: an anthology. 821.08-S6

Contents: — Richard Aldington; H. D.; John Gould Fletcher; F. S. Flint; D. H. Lawrence; Amy Lowell; Bibliography.

"In March, 1914, a volume appeared entitled 'Des Imagistes.' It was a collection of the work of various young poets, presented together as a school. . . . In this new book we have followed a slightly different arrangement. Instead of an arbitrary selection by an editor, each poet has been permitted to represent himself by the work he considers his best." Preface.

Stevenson, Burton E., compiler. Ref. 821.08

The home book of verse, American and English, 1580-1912.

"A very comprehensive anthology of over three thousand poems by eleven hundred poets, in which the attempt has been made to collect in complete and accurate form the best short poems in the English language from the time of Spenser to the present day, together with a large body of less noteworthy but popular verse, and the best work of many younger poets." A. L. A. Booklist.

Verhaeren, Émile. 841-V512

Poems, selected and rendered into English verse, by Alma Strettell.

"In style Verhaeren is the apostle of the 'vers libre,' and his handling of rhyme and rhythm, his coining of words where he finds the French vocabulary inadequate, are both daring and suggestive." Introductory Note.

HISTORY

- Finley, John. 973.2-F51
The French in the heart of America.
"This book is an epic of exploration and of heroic effort, and at the same time a picture of the United States of to-day which can hardly be surpassed."
- Kephart, Horace, editor. 970.1-K3
Captives among the Indians; first hand narratives of Indian wars, customs, tortures, and habits of life in colonial times.
- Kipling, Rudyard. 940.91-K5
The new army in training.
"What Mr. Kipling has done is to dash in a motor-car among the new armies, talk to men here and there and make them talk to him, and to give us his general impressions. They are picturesque and interesting impressions." Times Literary Supplement.
- Kreisler, Fritz. 940.91-K9
Four weeks in the trenches; the war story of a violinist.
- Putnam, George P., and George H. Putnam, compilers.
Tabular views of universal history. Ref. 902
- Robinson, James H., and others. 940-R6.3
Outlines of European history, Part 1 — Earliest man, the Orient, Greece, and Rome, by James H. Breasted; Europe from the break-up of the Roman empire to the opening of the eighteenth century, by James H. Robinson. — Part 2 — From the opening of the eighteenth century to the present day, by James H. Robinson and Charles A. Beard.

DESCRIPTION AND TRAVEL

- Bartholomew, John G. Ref. 912
Literary and historical atlas of America.
- Dickie, J. F. 914.3-D5
Germany.
- Johnson, Clifton. 917.9-J6
Highways and byways of California; with excursions into Arizona, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada, and to the Yosemite National Park.
- Mills, Enos A. 917.8-M6.1
The Rocky Mountain wonderland.
"Contains much keen, original observation of the habits of the Rocky Mountain forests and the ways of the wild folk who roam through them."

Page, Walter H. 917.5-P13

The rebuilding of old commonwealths; being essays towards the training of the forgotten man in the southern states.

Powell, E. Alexander. 916-P882

The last frontier; the white man's war for civilisation in Africa.

"The story of the conquest of a continent by the men with levels and transits, drills and dynamite, ploughs and spades, forms a chronicle of courage, daring resource, and tenacity unsurpassed in history. They are no idlers, these pioneers of the desert, the jungle, and the veldt; they live with danger and hardship for their daily mates . . . and they are making new markets and new playgrounds for you and me." Foreword.

Putnam, George P. 917.9-P9

In the Oregon country.

"Out-doors in Oregon, Washington, and California. Some legendary lore, glimpses of the modern West in the making, descriptions of trips along the forest and mountain trails, on foot and horseback; and with gun, rod, and camera; of the ascent of peaks, and of long canoe excursions, all replete with incidents of interest and rich in word-pictures of the glorious country traversed. The economic possibilities of this vast country are discerningly discussed, and the history is interestingly touched upon. Added distinction is given the volume through an introduction by the Governor of Oregon."

Rey, Guido. 914.36-R4

Peaks and precipices; scrambles in the Dolomites and Savoy.

Ruxton, George F. 917.8-R9

In the old West; edited by Horace Kephart.

"In Blackwood's magazine of 1848 there appeared a serial by Ruxton entitled 'Life in the far west.' This story excited so much interest that it was reprinted in book form, and went through two editions. These are out of print and so the work is practically unknown to our reading public." Introduction.

Stokes, Adrian. 914.39-S8

Hungary.

"A combination of travel, narrative and incident covering three different visits and emphasizing the lavish hospitality and picturesque charm of the primitive villages. The principal attraction of the book, however, is its seventy-five colored reproductions of paintings by Adrian and Marianne Stokes, depicting landscape and peasant life." A. L. A. Booklist.

Wood, Ruth K. 917.1-W8

The tourist's maritime provinces.

"This well-arranged book is full of just the information which a traveler to Halifax, the land of Evangeline, and all the quaint, strange, picturesque, out-of-the-way places in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, the Gaspé Peninsula, Newfoundland and the Miquelon islands will need to know."

BIOGRAPHY

(Collective)

Gray, W. Forbes.

928-G783

The poets laureate of England; their history and their odes.

"The author aims at presenting a concise, historical narrative that shall include what is likely to instruct, interest, and even amuse those desirous of making the acquaintance of the wearers of the laurel from Ben Jonson to Alfred Austin. The careers of the less known laureates are briefly sketched, while specimens of their odes are given. An attempt is also made to trace the laureateship, and particularly to exhibit its relations with royalty and with party politics."

Gordon, W. J.

929.9-G6

Flags of the world, past and present; their story and associations.

Hugh: memoirs of a brother.

"This book was begun with no hope or intention of making a formal and finished biography, but only to place on record some of my brother's sayings and doings, to fix scenes and memories before they suffered from any dim obliteration of time, to catch, if I could, for my own comfort and delight, the tone and sense of that vivid and animated atmosphere which Hugh always created about him. . . . And so I have thought it well to draw in broad strokes and simple outlines a picture of his personality as we, his family, knew and loved it. It is only a study, so to speak, and is written very informally and directly. . . . It is just an attempt to show Hugh as he showed himself, freely and unaffectedly, to his own circle; and I am sure that this deserves to be told. . . . True priest though he was, the force and energy of his priesthood came at least in part from the fact that he was entirely and delightfully human, and I deeply desire that this should not be overlooked or forgotten."

RECENT ADDITIONS

LITERATURE

- Benson, Robert H. 821-B4741
Poems. [Introduction by Wilfrid Meynell.]
"So possessed by his message that the manner of it is forgotten, Benson gives himself to the reader as a new human document which must have enthralling interest for all that pursue the devious paths of religious psychology." New York Times Book Review.
- Bynner, Witter. 812-B994.1
The little king.
- Bynner, Witter. 811-B994.1
The new world.
"Democracy and beauty have been invoked in one vision in this poem, and this more than anything else makes it unforgettable and if Mr. Bynner means that Celia should symbolize this union, whatever tribute he may wreath round a reality or a memory, there will always stand forth the beautiful and glorious embodiment of American womanhood." Boston Transcript.
- Courtney, William L. 804-C865
Rosemary's letter book.
- Crothers, Rachel. 812-C952
A man's world: a play in four acts.
"The story of a woman author who adopts a child, the son of a wronged girl, and then falls in love with the man who, though she does not know it, is the boy's father. Miss Crothers develops with clear directness her thesis against the dual standard of morality, and one character, that of Frank Ware, the author, who adopts the child, is thrown out in a bold relief. The problem is delicately handled and the story interests to the last."
- Dante Alighieri. 851-D192.4
The divine comedy. Translated by Henry Johnson.
"The most satisfactory rendering, all things considered — fidelity to word and spirit and nature of metrical vehicle — that has hitherto appeared in the English language." New York Times Book Review.
- Dobell, Bertram. 821-D633.1
Sonnets and lyrics: a little book of verse on the present war.
"Mr. Dobell, the well known bibliographer of Charing Cross road, said, 'Age having disqualified me from taking any active part in the struggle, I have occupied myself with writing verses upon it.'"
- Dolben, Digby M. 821-D661
Poems. Edited with a memoir by Robert Bridges.

- Dowden, Edward. 822-D745
Poems.
"One of Dowden's two main sources of inspiration is nature. In this communion the poet truly felt the presence that disturbed him with the joy of elevated thoughts. . . . Dowden's other main inspiration is the wellspring from which all poets draw, love. Here it is not 'passion' under any of its masks, nor any other form of egotism; but loyal, high-minded love, devoted and enduring." Nation.
- Ellis, Mrs. Havelock. 822-E47
Love in danger: three plays.
Contents: The subjection of Kezia. — The pixy. — The mothers.
- Euripides. Alcestis. 882.3-A1m
The Alcestis of Euripides. Translated into English rhyming verse with explanatory notes by Gilbert Murray.
"This is the eighth play of Euripides which Prof. Murray has translated, and all of his work in this way has had a marked success, which is well deserved. Unlike some eminent authorities on the classics, he has a keen sense of drama, and excellent taste in English. His renderings are at once vivid and poetical." The Athenæum.
- Firkins, Ina T., compiler. Ref. 808.3
Index to short stories.
- Gibson, Wilfrid W. 821-G451.2
Borderlands and thoroughfares.
- Goethe, Johann W. von. 831-G5994d
West — eastern divan. Translated by Edward Dowden.
- Guiterman, Arthur. 811-G968
The laughing muse.
- Hagedorn, Hermann. 811-H144
Poems and ballads.
- Jackson, Holbrook. 824-J13
Southward ho! and other essays.
Mr. Jackson is the editor of T. P.'s Weekly.
- Leland, Robert De C. 812-L538
Barbarians: a play in one act. Being an episode of the war of 1914.
- Lindsay, Vachel. 818-L749
Adventures while preaching the gospel of beauty.
- Murray, Gilbert. 882.3-M9.2
Euripides and his age.
"A masterly study of the poet and fifth century Athens. . . . while popular enough for the general reader, it affords the classical student an excellent perspective of Euripides' work as a whole and of the constructive ritual of Greek drama." A. L. A. Booklist.

Powys, John C.

804-P889

Visions and revisions.

"Mr. Powys is a critic of astonishing brilliancy and insight. Among modern writers upon literature there are few who approach him in the power of perfectly identifying himself with the spirit of the writer whom he describes; there is hardly one, who so often gives the reader occasion for a kind of inward shout of joy." North American Review.

Tagore. The king of the dark chamber.

891.441-R2.4

Tagore. Sadhana; the realization of life.

891.441-R2.3

An attempt to give western readers an "opportunity of coming in touch with the ancient spirit of India as revealed in our sacred text and manifested in the life of to-day." Preface.

Upward, Allen.

822-U71

Paradise found; or, The superman found out.

"Bernard Shaw is cast into a two-hundred-year trance from which he awakes to find a world administered entire on Shavian principles. The book, which is written in dialogue form, is not only uproariously funny but is the keenest criticism of the Shavian cult that has so far been written."

Wells, Herbert G.

828-W454

Boon: the mind of the race, the wild asses of the devil, and the last trump. Prepared for publication by Reginald Bliss.

Winship, George P.

027.7-J6

The John Carter Brown Library: a history.

"As is well known, the John Carter Brown Library of Providence, R. I., is devoted for the most part to books and materials relating to America printed prior to 1801. In this field it is unrivalled. The story of the inception and growth of this magnificent collection, with an account of the part played by those who either brought these treasures together or made their gathering possible, could not fail in point of interest, and Mr. Winship has done his work well." The Nation.

FINE ARTS

(Including Amusements)

Burchenal, Elizabeth, editor.

793.2-B9.3

Folk-dances of Denmark.

"A volume containing the music and detailed description to seventy-three dances which may be readily acquired and performed in the native manner."

Burchenal, Elizabeth, editor.

793.2-B9.4

Folk-dances of Finland.

"The dances of the North are characterized by an individual picturesqueness of movement and a vigor suggestive of their clime. To Elizabeth Burchenal the country yielded a wealth of rhythmic measure and quaint step which were reward for her travel and study in the homes of the people."

Cox, John C.

726.5-E5c

The English parish church; an account of the chief building types and of their materials during nine centuries.

McLoughlin, Maurice E. 796-M165
Tennis as I play it; preface by Richard Norris Williams.

Pugin, Augustus N. W. Ref. 729
Fifteenth and sixteenth century ornaments.
Contents: 1. Gold and silver ornament designs. — 2. Iron and brass work designs. — 3. Gothic furniture. — 4. Details of ancient timber roofs.

Williamson, George C. 759.2-M8w
George Morland; his life and works.

TRAVEL

Bartholomew, John G. Ref. 912
A literary and historical atlas of Europe.
"Contains fifty-six admirably engraved and colored historical maps, forty-six line maps showing battle plans and regions of literary fame and a forty-page gazeteer of places of literary and historical interest." A. L. A. catalog.

Brinkley, Capt. Frank. 915.2-B8
A history of the Japanese people from the earliest times to the end of the Meiji era.
"Grandson of the astronomer Brinkley, and an Irishman by birth and descent, Capt. Frank Brinkley received his early training in the Royal Artillery, and first visited Japan in the late sixties as one of the British Legation Guards. Attracted by the country, he became a resident, and made a thorough study of her language and civilization." Nation.

Chase, Beatrice. 914.2-D5c
Through a Dartmoor window.

Wood, Ruth K. 917.94-W8
The tourist's California.
"Includes chapters relating to chronology, to guest-houses both informal and magnificent, to native dishes, to sports, theaters and festivals, to automobile routes and mountain-climbing, and to countless historic and picturesque scenes whose trail leads from the Sierra to the desert, from Shasta to Coronado, and from Yosemite to sleepy Monterey."

Wood, Ruth K. 914.7-W87
The tourist's Russia.

HISTORY

Andrews, Charles M., editor. 973.2-A5.2
Narratives of the insurrections, 1675-1690.
"A compilation of letters, reports, pamphlets, and accounts of men who participated in or witnessed the revolts of this period — interesting and valuable as 'showing the attitude and thought of the hardy men who paved the way for the Revolution.'" A. L. A. Booklist.

The Annual Register; a review of public events at home and abroad for the year 1914.

"The most famous, and one of the most useful, of the annual publications on the events of current history. It was given character in the last century by the editing of Burke." Adam's Manual of historical literature.

The secrets of the Hohenzollerns.
- Harris, Frank. 940.91-H3
England or Germany?
- Hillis, Newell D. 940.91-H6
Studies of the great war; what each nation has at stake.
"A pithy and readable summary of the facts of the war as seen by a broad-minded American." N. Y. Times Book Review.
- I accuse! (J'accuse!) 940.91-I1
By a German. Translated by Alexander Gray.
- Verhaeren, Emile. 940.91-V5
Belgium's agony.
- Villard, Oswald G. 940.91-V7
Germany embattled: an American interpretation.
- Wister, Owen. 940.91-W8
The Pentecost of calamity.
"The tragedy of Germany is vividly depicted in this book. This tragedy Mr. Wister sees to have been the state of mind that made it possible for that great nation to 'spring at the throat of an unexpected and unprepared world.' "
- Wood, Eric. 940.91-W87
The note-book of an attaché; seven months in the war zone.

(Pamphlets)

- Basu. Why India is heart and soul with Great Britain. 940.91-Pam. 22

- Redmond. Irish nation and the war. 940.91-Pam. 20
- Sabatier. Ideals of France. 940.91-Pam. 23

BIOGRAPHY

- Bennett. Darton, F. J. Harvey. B-B471d
Arnold Bennett.

- Dostoevskii, Fedor M. B-D724
Letters.

- Gallatin, James. B-G1641

A great peace maker; the diary of James Gallatin, secretary to Albert Gallatin, 1813-1827, with an introduction by Viscount Bryce.

"Diary of the son and secretary of Albert Gallatin, to whose efforts the Treaty of Ghent was largely due. . . . It is mainly a lively recital of the daily doings and perfectly frank observations of a young man who was less concerned with diplomacy than with the gay society of Paris and London, who knew Lafayette and Wellington, was associated with Adams and tells enough of his father's work to give the account some historic value." A. L. A. Booklist.

- Tagore. Roy, B. K. B-R116r

Rabindranath Tagore: the man and his poetry; with an introduction by Hamilton W. Mabie.

"A remarkably keen and interesting discussion of Tagore's life, work and message, written by a fellow countryman and personal friend of the gifted Bengali philosopher and poet."

- Wells. Beresford, John D. B-W454b
H. G. Wells.

EDUCATION — SOCIOLOGY

- American academy of political and social science. Annals, July 1915. America's interests as affected by the European war. 306-A6

- Boyce, Ella M. 372.4-B7

Enunciation and articulation; a practical manual for teachers and schools.

"Practical exercises designed to train the organs of hearing to acuteness and the organs of speech to accuracy." Boston Transcript.

- 370.6-C2b
- Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching.
 Bulletin number eight. The common law and the case method in American university law schools. A report by Josef Redlich.
- Field, A. P. L. 365-F453
 The story of Canada Blackie.
 "These extraordinary letters from one of the most desperate criminals in the State of New York, who recently died at Sing Sing, reveal by a lightning flash the power of sympathy and trust in transforming a dangerous enemy of society into a loyal and trusted friend of the authorities."
- Hardy, E. J. 355-H268
 The British Soldier: his courage and humour.
- Howe, Frederic C. 352-H855
 The modern city and its problems.
 "Well and clearly written and so classified that the various problems of planning, or of government, or of affairs of general interest to the people, may be easily found, read and digested. Many parallel problems in Europe also are presented with their solutions, thus offering a model or guide for procedure in this country."
 Boston Transcript.
- Howe, Frederic C. 354.43-H8
 Socialized Germany.
- Jacobi, Mary P. 396-J16
 Common sense applied to woman suffrage.
 "The volume presents in expanded form the address the author delivered before the Committee on Woman Suffrage of the Constitutional Convention of 1894 — an address that was recognized as one of the most powerful appeals made to the Convention on behalf of any subject whatsoever. The reissue of the book has timely importance. The text is as applicable to-day as when it was first written, for it presents a clear-cut statement of the reasons which justify the demand for the extension of the suffrage to women and analyzes the reasons advanced against such an extension."
- Lansing, Robert, and Gary M. Jones. 342.73-L29
 Government; its origin, growth, and form in the United States.
- Miller, Alice D. 396-M647

 My adventures as a spy.

Russell, Lindsay, editor. 327-R965
America to Japan; a symposium of papers by representative citizens of the United States on the relations between Japan and America and on the common interests of the two countries.

Schell, Stanley. 394-S322
Hallowe'en festivities.

Sears, Clara E., compiler. 335-S439
Bronson Alcott's Fruitlands; with Transcendental wild oats, by Louisa M. Alcott.
"Alcott's diary, Emerson's Journals, Louisa Alcott's 'Transcendental Wild Oats,' and other widely scattered material have been brought together to make up a history of this interesting Transcendental venture — the community at Fruitlands."

Toulmin, Harry A. 352.073-T7
The city manager; a new profession.
"More than three hundred American cities have eliminated their aldermen and mayors and have chosen less involved, less complicated and more adequate methods of government. They have adopted Germany's example and have hired a 'city manager.' Harry A. Toulmin, in 'The city manager,' gives a complete study of this new form of municipal government in charge of a qualified expert as it has been adopted in many cities of the South and West, as well as by many commission government cities all over the country. The employment of a general manager for the city's business is a signal departure for local government in America, but efficient city government is, after all, only a business problem and regeneration of a municipal business is the duty of the city manager as manager of a vast public corporation.

This work goes so thoroughly into the advantages and disadvantages of the commission and city government plans that we believe it will prove a telling factor in the development of sound public opinion upon a very important question and, as such, of inestimable value to our voters."

Tuttle, Florence G. 396-T967
The awakening of woman; suggestions from the psychic side of feminism.
"The exposition of a sane yet advanced feminism that should dispel the fright of its foes while it satisfies the ideals of its friends."
New York Sun.

Weaver, Eli W., and J. F. Byler. 174-W363
Profitable vocations for boys.
"General information on most of the best known occupations with helpful, suggestive advice on how to choose a vocation, how to find an opening, how to get ahead." A. L. A. Booklist.

edited by A. E. Southall, assisted by C. H. Moody.

Johnston, Charles H., editor. 379.1-J7

The modern high school, its administration and extension.

"The purpose of the editor has been to establish more firmly the idea that the aim of the high school is social; second, to determine the relation of the high school to the other educational agencies of a democracy; and, third, to show, largely through the interpretation of concrete examples, how the work of students might be so administered that it would have the maximum socializing effect upon them." Science.

Lippmann, Walter. 304-L766
Drift and mastery.

Lippmann, Walter. 320-L766
A preface to politics.

"The most incisive comment on politics to-day is indifference. . . .
In selecting for the title of the book 'A preface to politics,' I have wished to stamp upon the whole book my own sense that it is a beginning and not a conclusion. . . . It is a preliminary sketch for a theory of politics, a preface to thinking." Introduction.

Tucker, Henry St. G. 341.2-T8
Limitations of the treaty-making power, under the constitution of the United States.

HISTORY

Becker, Carl L. 973.2-B3
Beginnings of the American people.
(Riverside history of the United States.)

The partitions of Poland.

Johnson, Allen. 973-J66.1
Union and democracy.
(Riverside history of the United States.)

Lee, Robert E. 973.7-L4
Lee's dispatches; unpublished letters of General Robert E.
Lee to Jefferson Davis and the War Department of the Confederate States of America, 1862-1865; edited by Douglas S. Freeman.

Norton, Oliver W. 973.73-N8
The attack and defense of Little Round Top, Gettysburg,
July 2, 1863.

Paxson, Frederic L. 973.8-P3
The new nation.
(Riverside history of the United States.)

Ploetz, Karl Julius. 909-P7.1
Ploetz' manual of universal history from the dawn of civilization to the outbreak of the great war of 1914.

Sherrill, Charles H. 973.3-S5
French memories of eighteenth-century America.

EUROPEAN WAR

- Aldrich, Mildred. 940.91-A3
A hilltop on the Marne; being letters written June 3-September 8, 1914.
"In June, 1914, the author of this book, a well-known Boston woman, bought a house in the Marne valley, and settled down to enjoy the remainder of her years in peace and comfort. A few weeks later she found herself in the very centre of the battle of the Marne." First published in the Atlantic under the title "The little house on the Marne."
- Andriulli, Giuseppe A., compiler. 940.91-A5
Documents relating to the great war. With an introduction by Professor Guglielmo Ferrero.
- Gibbons, Herbert A. 940.91-G4.1
Paris reborn; a study in civic psychology.
"An extended diary, written day by day in Paris during the first five months of the war, and reflecting freshly and spontaneously all the events and fluctuations of those exciting days."
- Great Britain. 940.91-G7.1
Committee on alleged German outrages.
Evidence and documents laid before the Committee on alleged German outrages; being an appendix to the Report of the Committee appointed by His Britannic Majesty's government and presided over by the Right Hon. Viscount Bryce.
- Great Britain. 940.91-G78
Foreign office.
Collected diplomatic documents relating to the outbreak of the European war.
- Kipling, Rudyard. 940.91-K5.1
France at war on the frontier of civilization.
"Preceded by a poem, 'France,' these six papers, reprinted from periodical pages, give Kipling's view of the spirit and task of the English nation and an account of life in the trenches." Boston Transcript.
- Lauriat, Charles E. 940.91-L3
The Lusitania's last voyage; being a narrative of the torpedoing and sinking of the R. M. S. Lusitania, by a German submarine off the Irish coast, May 7, 1915.
- Owen, Harold. 940.91-09
Common sense about the Shaw.
"Mr. Owen has turned of late from journalism to the stage. It is not as a playwright that he considers Mr. Shaw. He is simply an intellectual patriot who sets himself to see what there is (or was) in a certain pamphlet which Mr. Shaw published before Christmas called 'Common sense about the war,' and he is frank and indicative enough to call his exposure 'Common sense about the Shaw.'" Boston Transcript.

Sinclair, May. 940.91-S6
A journal of impressions in Belgium.

Stephens, Winifred, editor. 940.91-S8
The book of France, in aid of French Parliamentary Committee's Fund for the relief of the invaded departments.

LITERATURE

Brooke, Rupert. 821-B8726
Poems.

"Rupert Brooke accepts all the wonder of color and sound and form in the world about him, but he refuses to wrap his vision in garments of ornament, to illustrate beauty instead of stating it unadorned. This poetry is eloquent of rejected graces. You see it as it was born from its creator." Boston Transcript.

Brownell, Atherton. 812-B884
The unseen empire; a peace play in four acts.

Burnet, Dana. 811-B964
Poems.

"Mr. Burnet has every element of popularity, but there is no cheapness about his modes of expression. He is to be hailed as a real addition to the singing guild, not merely of America, but of the English-speaking world." Boston Transcript.

Chapman, John J. 814-C466.1
Greek genius and other essays.

Cowan, Sada. 812-C874
The state forbids.
"A play in one act that deals strikingly and intensely with our failure to revise outworn laws and discredited ethics."

Fay, Lucy E., and Anne T. Eaton. Ref. 020.7
Instruction in the use of books and libraries; a text book for normal schools and colleges.

France, Anatole. 842-F815
The man who married a dumb wife; a comedy in two acts, translated for Mr. Granville Barker, by Curtis H. Page.

Frost, Robert. 811-F939.1
A boy's will.

Gourmont, Remyde. 840-G716
La Belgique littéraire.

Homerus. 883.1-H711
The Homeric stories; Iliad and Odyssey, done into English prose by Andrew Lang [and others]. Abridged edition.

- Hunt, Clara W. y028.5-H
 What shall we read to the children?
- Noyes, Alfred. 821-N952.7
 The lord of misrule, and other poems.
 "Alfred Noyes's new volume of poetry contains everything he has written (except 'The wine press' and 'A Belgian Christmas Eve') since the publication of the 'Collected poems' in 1913." Boston Transcript.
- Palmer, Alice F. 811-P173
 A marriage cycle. With a preface by George Herbert Palmer.
 After thirteen years of hesitation, Professor Palmer has decided to publish this collection of his wife's poems.
- Rittenhouse, Jessie B., editor. 811.08-R6.1
 The little book of American poets, 1787-1900.

TRAVEL

- Comstock, Sarah. 917.47-C7
 Old roads from the heart of New York; journeys today by ways of yesterday, within thirty miles around the Battery.
- Duncan, Norman. 919.4-D9
 Australian byways; the narrative of a sentimental traveler.
 "The author gives a chatty, leisurely account of his trip along the outskirts of Australian civilization. The big cities were merely passed through, and the journeying was principally by stage-coach, on camel back, or small coastal steamers from Western Australia to New Guinea."
- Turley, Charles. 919.9-S4.2
 The voyages of Captain Scott.
- Young, S. Hall. 917.98-Y7
 Alaska days with John Muir.
 "This is not only a breezy outdoor book, full of the wild beauties of the Alaskan wilderness; it is also a living portrait of John Muir in the great moments of his career." N. Y. Times Book Review.

BIOGRAPHY

- Firkins, Oscar W. B-E53f
 Ralph Waldo Emerson.
 "There have been many lives of Emerson, but this is the first since the publication of the ten volumes of his Journals, which put into print a vast amount of new biographical and critical material."
- George, W. L. B-F8151g
 Anatole France.

Lazarovich-Hrebelianovich, Eleanor C. B-L431

Pleasures and palaces; memoirs.

"Princess Lazarovich-Hrebelianovich (Eleanor Calhoun) is a grand-niece of the statesman John C. Calhoun. Born in California, she won renown in London and Paris as an actress, mainly in Shakespearian parts. On her marriage with Prince Lazarovich-Hrebelianovich, the Serbian statesman, she left the stage and has since devoted herself enthusiastically to her husband's work in building up the Serbian people."

Patrizi, Maddalena. B-P314

The Patrizi memoirs; a Roman family under Napoleon, 1796-1815; translated by Mrs. Hugh Fraser.

"The book may be read with interest even by those who have little knowledge of the history of the time, but it will be entertaining in proportion to the reader's ability to supply from memory the backgrounds for the pictures it presents. Familiar names abound in its pages, the style is easy and flowing, and the work of the translator has been done with care." Boston Transcript.

Perry, Bliss. B-C2866p

Thomas Carlyle; how to know him.

Putnam, George H. B-P9914

Memories of a publisher, 1865-1915.

Thayer, William R. B-H412t

Life and letters of John Hay.

Topliff, Samuel. B-T675

Topliff's travels; letters from abroad in the years 1828 and 1829, by Samuel Topliff, proprietor of the Merchants' News Room in Boston; edited, with a memoir, by Ethel Stanwood Bolton.

FINE ARTS

Dyer, Walter A. 749-D996

Early American craftsmen; being a series of sketches of the lives of the more important personalities in the early development of the industrial arts in America, together with sundry facts and photographs of interest and value to the collector of Americana.

Northend, Mary H. 728-N874

Remodeled farmhouses.

Parsons, Frank A. 749-P267

Interior decoration; its principles and practice.

Ryan, Kate. 792.1-R9

Old Boston Museum days.

"In her pages, Miss Ryan has 'lived over again the days of the Old Museum,' recalling the faces and forms that peopled the stage of that famous old playhouse." Boston Transcript.

Stevens, Thomas W., and Percy Mackaye. 793.4-S8
The book of words of the pageant and masque of Saint Louis.

Sturgis, Russell, and Arthur L. Frothingham. 720-S935.2
History of architecture, volumes 3 and 4.

"These two volumes contain an illustrated account of the history of architecture in the Gothic periods of Italy, France and northern Europe, of the Gothic period in Great Britain, of the Renaissance and of modern achievements in various countries." Boston Transcript.

Thompson, Robert E. 728-T475
The history of the dwelling-house and its future.

ETHICS — PHILOSOPHY — RELIGION

Austin, Mary. 232-A937
The man Jesus; being a brief account of the life and teaching of the Prophet of Nazareth.

"Mrs. Austin handles her prose in masterly fashion. The lyricism of the descriptive passages approaches the stately rhythms of King James' Scriptures. Her message, in a condensed form, is contained in the closing paragraph of the book: 'Christianity is not a system of theology, but a way of life in which the validity of your relation to God is witnessed in your relation to your neighbor.' She has told us what Christ did and thought, not what theologians have said about Him." Review of Reviews.

Bacon, Benjamin W. 225.88-B1
The making of the New Testament.
(Home university library of modern knowledge.)

Bacon, Corinne, compiler. 172.4-B1
Selected articles on national defense.
(Abridged debaters' handbook series.)

Balfour, Arthur J. 211-B185
Theism and humanism; being the Gifford lectures delivered at the University of Glasgow, 1914.

Eddy, Mary B. G.
Christian healing and the People's idea of God. 289.9-E21.4
Christian Science versus pantheism and other messages to the Mother Church. 289.9-E21.5
No and yes. 289.9-E21.6
Pulpit and press. 289.9-E21.7
Retrospection and introspection. 289.9-E21.8
Unity of good. 289.9-E21.9
Wissenschaft und Gesundheit, mit Schlüssel zur Heiligen Schrift. 289.9-E21

Hall, Herbert J. 131-H176
The untroubled mind.

"The modern mind is apt to fail of religious understanding and support, because of the arbitrary interpretations of religion which are presented for our acceptance. It is what men say about religion, rather than religion itself, that repels us." The author.

Moore, George F. 221.88-M8
The literature of the Old Testament.
(Home university library of modern knowledge.)

Walton, George L. 131-W239.2
Peg along.

"Dr. Walton's slogan 'Why Worry' swept the country. 'Peg Along' is the 1915 slogan. Hundreds of thousands of fussers, fretters, semi- and would-be invalids, and all other halters by the wayside should be reached by Dr. Walton's stirring encouragement to 'peg along.' "

Younghusband, Sir Francis. 248-Y78.1
Mutual influence.

SCIENCE — USEFUL ARTS

Beecroft, Willey I., compiler. 580-B414
Who's who among the wild flowers.

Brinton, Willard C. 658-B858
Graphic methods of presenting facts.
(Works management library.)

Delano, Jane A., and Isabel McIsaac. 649-D337
American Red Cross textbook on elementary hygiene and home care of the sick.

Fabre, J. Henri. 595.79-F1.2
The hunting wasps; translated by Alexander T. de Mattos.
"A sympathetic study and appreciation of the habits and lives of the wasps. It lacks no scientific accuracy because it is especially adapted to popular reading." Boston Transcript.

Frederick, Christine. 640-F852
The new housekeeping; efficiency studies in home management.

Rogers, Julia E. 582-R725
The tree book.

Roman, Frederick William. 607-R758
The industrial and commercial schools of the United States and Germany.

Upton, Winslow. Ref. 524
The star atlas.

Woodbridge, Elizabeth.

504-M875.1

More Jonathan papers.

"Elizabeth Woodbridge is one of the outdoor philosophers. She is also a very charming writer. Her essays not only sparkle with wit but are full of descriptions of great delicacy and beauty." The Dial, Chicago.

FICTION

Adams, Samuel H.

Little Miss Grouch.

Beach, Rex.

Heart of the sunset.

Birmingham, George A.

Minnie's bishop and other stories.

Burns, William J., and Isabel Ostrander.

The Crevice.

Canfield, Dorothy.

Cather, Willa S.

The song of the lark.

Cullum, Ridgwell.

The law-breakers.

Deland, Margaret.

Around old Chester.

Dostoevsky, Fyodor.

The insulted and the injured.

Speaking of Dostoevsky the Nation says "writers who speak with real knowledge of the topic have termed Dostoevsky one of the two great masters of Russian literature, far superior to Turgenev and . . . a unique product, a more startling revelation and embodiment of genius, a greater elemental force, than Tolstoy or any other Russian writer of fiction."

Farnol, Jeffery.

Beltane the Smith.

Gale, Zona.

Heart's kindred.

Ghosal, S.

The fatal garland.

Gogol, Nikolai V.

Dead souls.

Goncharov, Ivan.

The precipice. Translated from the Russian.

"A first translation of the work of one of the great Russian novelists of the nineteenth century."

Aunt Jane.

Lynde, Francis.

The real man.

McCarthy, Justin H.

The glorious rascal.

Machen, Arthur.

The bowmen and other legends of the war.

Mackenzie, Compton.

Plashers Mead.

"Youth and love fill the pages of 'Plasher's Mead' . . . With every charm of word and phrase Mr. Mackenzie follows for us the course of this love through the seasons . . . a high romance comparable in its happenings and especially in its glowing English imagery to the almost incomparable romance of Meredith's Richard and Lucy." Boston Transcript.

Marshall, Archibald.

The old order changeth.

Melville, Hermann.

Omoo; a narrative of adventures in the South seas.

Typee; a narrative of the Marquesas Islands.

The money master.

Phillpotts, Eden.

Old Delabole.

Sologub, Fedor.

The sweet-scented name.

"Sologub is one of the cleverest of contemporary Russian tale-writers and poets. His genius lies in the power he has to suggest atmosphere. He casts the reader into a spell through which he is infallibly beguiled out of the everyday atmosphere into the mirage or phantasy or trance which the author wishes." New York Times Book Review.
